

SOCIAL and PERSONAL

COOL crisp air and sunshine tempted society girls to spend yesterday out of doors. Quite a number of the debutantes and belles of Richmond are good pedestrians, and the promenades in the West End are usually thronged in the afternoon with a crowd of elegantly attired members of the smart set, who lend attractiveness and animation to the scene.

The midwinter season has been ushered in most delightfully this year. The weather has been quite unprecipitated for its mildness, and in consequence the country clubs are centres of much gay life within doors, and on the golf links and tennis courts, where trials of skill are constantly furnishing amusement and occupation for men and maidens of athletic inclination.

The street flower vendors' stock has been somewhat enlarged, and frail wretches to human hyacinths, snowdrops and crocuses, and in the January snowdrops are beginning to proclaim the advent of midwinter and push the vivid marsh berries and evergreens out of favor.

When one reads of the decorations in peach blossoms and spring flowers in recent ball given in honor of a young girl who has many Richmond friends, one can but feel afraid that the young girl may be deluded by the peach trees into putting out their buds in belief that February may prove as balmy as January has been.

It has become a January fad among smart people to use artificial snowdrops for table decoration, the graceful blossoms being especially pretty when sprayed with maidenhair ferns.

The young girls who are already looking forward to leap year and valentine parties, however, have their thoughts turned to pink roses and pink carnations, pink and green being the valentine colors.

Anxiety—Wheat.
The wedding of Mrs. Eliza Addison Hester Wheat, of Alexandria, daughter of Mrs. James Williams Hester, to Mr. Harrie Craig Ansley, of Augusta, Ga., was celebrated at 4 o'clock yesterday noon, in St. Thomas's Church, Washington, the Rev. Dr. C. Ernest Smith, rector of St. Thomas's, and the Rev. P. P. Phillips, of St. Paul's Church, Alexandria, officiating.

The color scheme in the decorations at the church will be white and green. At the home of the bride, the Rockingham, on Rhode Island Avenue, Washington, the parlors will be grouped with palms and festooned with Southern smilax, and the mantels banked with flowers and ferns. A buffet luncheon will be served from 4:30 to 6 P. M. Pink roses and carnations, and smilax being used in the dining-room.

The matron of honor will be the bride's sister, Mrs. Edward Knox Cook, of New York, and the best man will be Mr. Fairfax Harrison, vice-president of the Southern Railroad. Mr. William Breckenridge Hester and Mr. Frank Hester, the bride's brothers; Dr. Louis S. Greene and Mr. Edmund Hunter, of Alexandria, will officiate as groomsmen.

The bride will enter with her cousin, Dr. William Mercer Sprigg, by whom she will be given in marriage. She will wear a tailored gown of golden brown chiffon, broadcloth, having a vest of champagne-colored cloth embroidered in forget-me-nots. Her hat will match her gown. The matron of honor will have on a costume of rose-colored chiffon broadcloth, elaborately embroidered and worn with a big plumed hat.

Mr. and Mrs. Ansley will leave this evening in his private car for an extended tour to Jacksonville, St. Augustine and Pensacola, Fla.

Some of the out-of-town guests will be Mr. and Mrs. Edward Knox Cook, of New York; Mrs. Herbert Lyman Blackman, of New York; Mr. and Mrs. Riley Gordon, of New York; Mrs. Lucy Sprigg Madison, of New York; Mr. and Mrs. William E. Kendall, Mr. William Daingerfield, Colonel and Mrs. Arthur

Contains No Quinine

Yet Babek is the most effective remedy for Colds, La Grippe, Chills and Fever. Mr. J. F. Oerlet, Vienna, Va., says: "I have used it in my family for 16 years. I have never known a cold or fever that I have known of three doses to stop chills."

BABEK
Best for Colds, La Grippe, Chills and Fever. 50c bottles only.
All Drugists.

Engagement Rings.
A wonderful variety for the bride-to-be to select from.

Wedding Gifts.
There is no need for you to worry about what to give. We can help you.

Birthday Presents.
A profusion of artistic and useful gift goods can always be found here.

John F. Kohler,
The Jeweler,
209 E. BROAD ST.

$56.
WILL BUY A NICE LITTLE STIFF PIANO.
CRAFTS PIANO COMPANY
214 N. Fifth Street.

Dr. Lyon's PERFECT Tooth Powder
Cleanses, preserves and beautifies the teeth, and Purifies the breath.
A superior dentifrice for people of refinement.
Established in 1866 by
J. H. Lyon, D.D.S.

Herbert, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fuller and Mr. and Mrs. William A. Smoot, all of Alexandria.

Mr. and Mrs. Ansley will be at home after February 15th, at No. 1630 Ninth Street, Washington, D. C. The bride and groom belong to prominent Virginia and Southern families, and are widely known in Richmond.

Pleasant Birthday.
The annual meeting of the Ladies' Hebrew Benevolent Association will take place in the vestry rooms of Temple Beth Anahab this afternoon at 4 o'clock. Business of importance will be transacted.

In Honor of Miss Clarke.
Miss Berry, of No. 815 West Franklin Street, will entertain at cards on Friday evening at 8:30 o'clock, in honor of her niece, Miss Louise Clarke. Euchre will be played, and Miss Clarke's guests will be her friends among the younger members of society. Miss Clarke is herself an admired debutante of this season.

At Woman's Club.
Mr. Alexander Johnson, general secretary of the National Conference of Charities, addressed the members of the Woman's Club yesterday afternoon on "The Woman's Club in Public Affairs."

Mr. Johnson dwelt upon the influence of the woman's club as an uplifting and educational factor and the need of such a factor and influence in every community and every life. He was heard with interest and appreciation.

On account of the illness of Miss Augusta Daniel, the meeting of the Literary Round Table will be omitted.

Personal Mention.
Miss Harrie M. Smith, who has been the guest of Miss Elizabeth Kent Kling, has returned to her home at Columbus, Ohio.

The Rev. J. T. Martin spent last Sunday with friends and relatives in Berkeley.

Miss Grace Williamson has returned to her home in this city after spending several weeks with friends in Newport News.

Miss Annie Galt, of Williamsburg, and her sister, Miss Galt, who came to Richmond to attend the A. P. V. A. meeting, spent last night as the guests of relatives.

Mrs. A. B. Hunt, formerly Miss Kellogg, of Roanoke, is spending the winter at the Pleasant Hill Hotel.

Miss India D. Goodwyn is the guest of Mrs. R. G. Thornton at No. 1517 Monument Avenue. Miss Goodwyn is from Nottingham, county.

Judge J. M. Quarles, of Staunton, Va., has been a recent guest of friends in Richmond.

Miss Annie Rose Walker is spending the winter in her apartments at Stoneleigh Court, Washington.

Miss Mary W. Lewis is visiting friends in Washington during January.

Miss Sadie Avery, who has been visiting relatives in Richmond and Manchester for several weeks, has returned to Newport News.

Miss Louie Taylor, of Norfolk; Bishop A. M. Randolph and the Rev. Mr. Goodwin, of Bruton Church, Williamsburg, were in Richmond yesterday to attend the general A. P. V. A. meeting held yesterday afternoon in the rooms of the Historical Society.

DROWNED IN PANLICO.
Rough Experience of Schooner E. R. Daniels—Mate Lost Overboard.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
ELIZABETH CITY, N. C., January 14.—The schooner E. R. Daniels, owned by E. R. Daniels, of Wanchess and commanded by Capt. Sanders, arrived in port this afternoon after a most stormy and perilous voyage of seven days from Wanchess to this city. Coming up Pamlico Sound during the severe storm of last Tuesday, the vessel was tossed and rocked, and it looked at one time as if it would be wrecked and the entire crew lost.

In furling the sails the captain and mate were both knocked overboard, and the mate was Allen Gray, of Avon, N. C., was drowned.

Captain Sanders clung to the rigging and managed to get back in the boat without serious injury. In an effort to rescue the drowning mate the anchor was thrown out but almost immediately the anchor chain snapped, and the vessel being at the mercy of the sea, the anchor was abandoned, and the body has not yet been recovered.

A curiosity in the shape of a huge catamount was being showed here today by Mr. Ned Casey. It weighed twenty-three and a half pounds, and was killed by Mr. Casey in the Dismal Swamp about eighteen miles from the city.

STRUCK BY LOCOMOTIVE.
Well-Known North Carolina Man Found by Track, Dead.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
SALISBURY, N. C., January 14.—The dead body of Mr. William H. Harrison, aged fifty years, a well-known citizen of Rowan county, was found near the main line of the Southern Railway tracks one mile south of Salisbury yesterday. The top of the head was torn off and the head badly mashed, as if struck by a locomotive.

Coroner E. Rose Dorsett, of Salisbury, held an inquest over the body and decided that Harrison came to his death by a locomotive passing train, though it is not known when the accident happened. Mr. Harrison was in his day a prominent citizen, and had a number of other relatives in Rowan and other counties. So far the railroad authorities have failed to find a train crew that knows anything of the death of Harrison.

DURHAM'S INDIGNATION.
Tillett Vaughan, Who Beat His Daughter, Arraigned on Assault Charge.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
DURHAM, N. C., January 14.—Miss Lillie Vaughan, who was so brutally beaten by her father, Tillett Vaughan, yesterday, and who is now receiving treatment of the physicians is believed to be out of danger to-night and will recover.

The affair has created widespread talk, and the sentiment of the people indicates that the prompt action of the city police yesterday is the only thing that saved Vaughan from suffering at the hands of the people. He still remains in jail under bond.

Miss Vaughan's condition early this morning was not so favorable, but before noon she rallied and since has been fast improving. Physicians were first of the opinion that she was internally injured by the brutal demon when he stamped her under his feet, and they say to-night that her recovery is very remarkable.

GAME WARDEN SHOT.
Fired Upon by Nativ Hunters in Currituck Sound.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
GREENSBORO, N. C., January 14.—Mr. T. Gilbert Pearson, secretary of the State Audubon Society, received information this morning of the shooting yesterday in Currituck Sound, of one of the game wardens, appointed to detect violators of the law against hunting wild fowl by night with fire lights. Game Warden Evans was struck in the face and arm by shot fired by one of the occupants of a boat he was pursuing to arrest for night fire hunting. In the boat was another game warden, and the two, not deterred by the wounding of Evans, continued the pursuit and succeeded in arresting the two law-breakers. Their preliminary trial will be held before a justice of peace on Thursday at Currituck Courthouse.

D. E. DeLane, of Lincoln, and S. A. Sides, of Winston, have been appointed deputy collectors in the internal revenue service.

Dr. Crump Injured in Runaway.
Salisbury, N. C., January 14.—Dr. W. L. Crump, a leucopha physician of Salisbury, was severely injured and had a narrow escape from possible death in a runaway accident in the northern part of Rowan county Saturday night.

After making a professional call he unchained his horse and started homeward without replacing the bit in his horse's mouth. The animal ran, dashing the physician against a post, dislocating a shoulder.

Oscar Thompson Dead.
Salisbury, N. C., January 14.—Oscar Thompson, twenty-four years of age, a son of R. F. Thompson, Esq., of Salisbury, died at his home here Sunday following a lingering illness. He was engaged in merchandising and was highly esteemed by business men generally. He leaves a widow, and two children, a father and mother, besides many near relatives.

For Women Who Bake
There's satisfaction and best baking results in every can of Good Luck Baking Powder. Used by over half a million happy housewives. Its utter reliability and low price of 10c per pound commend to all who bake. The new patent can in which it is sold keeps it always fresh and dry.

GOOD LUCK Baking Powder

Many handsome presents are given for label coupons.

Get Good Luck for your very next baking. If not at your dealer's, write THE SOUTHERN MFG. CO., Richmond, Va.

Engraved Invitations for Social Functions.
Finest Specimens, Finest Workmanship, Finest Quality, Lowest Prices.

EVERETT WADDEY CO.,
1105 East Main Street.

BRIDE OF MR. COLEMAN

MISS ALICE TEASDALE GRAVES, OF FREDERICKSBURG, who was yesterday married to Mr. Thomas Stokely Coleman, Common-wealth's attorney of Spotsylvania county.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE WITH BROKEN GLASS
Sad Case of Young Man in Raleigh, Whose Mind Was Evidently Unbalanced.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
RALEIGH, N. C., January 14.—Solomon Blakeley, a young man, giving his home as Detroit, Mich., attempted twice last night to commit suicide, using pieces of broken glass to sever the arteries in his wrists. He had broken a glass tumbler that had been given him with water for the purpose. Blakeley was put off the train here Sunday in a demented condition, having become almost raving a few hours before Raleigh was reached. He was traveling from Detroit to Savannah, Ga. In semi-sense intervals he has given the information that he is a cigar manufacturer at Detroit, and was on his way to relatives in Savannah in the hope of regaining his health. No communication has yet been established by the authorities here with either Savannah or Detroit in locating the man's people. He will be placed in the State hospital for insane here until other arrangements are made. Hebrew citizens here are looking after his welfare.

Thurn Libraries.
Thirteen new rural public school libraries are authorized in the office of the State Superintendent of public instruction, and the State appropriation for each forwarded, there being one library each for Alamance, Sampson, Lincoln, Edgecombe, Surry, Green, Johnston, Durham, Caswell, Rutherford and two for Cherokee county.

The Furniture Warehouse Company, of Mebane, is chartered with $100,000 capital, subscribed by W. E. White, J. S. White and E. J. Jackson for conducting a warehouse for storing furniture and other merchandise. Authority is also included to manufacture furniture.

An amendment is entered for the charter of the Charlotte Sanatorium (Inc.), whereby the $125,000 capital authorized is divided into 100,000 preferred and common stock. D. A. Tompkins is one of the principal incorporators.

Adjutant-General T. R. Robertson, of the North Carolina National Guard, is in Boston this week attending the annual meeting of the National Guard Association.

Charlotte's Charter.
Mayor T. S. Franklin, of Charlotte, spent the day in Raleigh and held a conference with Governor Glenn relative to the possibility of securing legislation during the special session, which will provide some amendment of minor importance to the charter of the city of Charlotte. It is expected that quite a number of bills of this character will be offered during the special session in the event the cities to be adopted will provide for the introduction of miscellaneous measures.

The directors of State School for the Blind have placed an order for a pipe organ to be installed in the auditorium of that institution, the cost to be $2,500.

NORTH CAROLINA MASONS.
Large Attendance Upon Grand Lodge Meetings—Fine Reports Made.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
RALEIGH, N. C., January 14.—The North Carolina Lodge of Masons convened in one hundred and twenty-first meeting to-night, with nearly 800 representatives of lodges in every section of the State present. In his annual address Grand Master Francis D. Winston declared his determination to retire to the ranks and congratulated the Grand Lodge on the splendid progress made, saying that the Grand Lodge Temple is now an assured fact with the work of construction well advanced, and the membership in the State more than 1,800. He appealed for a $100,000 endowment fund for the Masonic Orphanage at Oxford, and paid a most eloquent tribute to the Masonic dead for the year, mentioning especially Grand Lecturer B. W. Hatcher, and recommending that in future the office of grand lecturer be filled by the chairman of the board of custodians.

The report of Grand Treasurer John C. Drewry showed 15,908 active Masons in the State, a gain of 100 per cent. in ten years, and over $1,000 receipts, a gain of 300 per cent. The report on the Oxford Orphan Asylum showed 317 children being cared for—163 girls and 154 boys—and the institution's finances in excellent shape, showing $61,711 receipts, $58,820 disbursements and $2,891 balance on hand. The Grand Lodge will continue in session until Friday.

Wedding in Spotsylvania.
(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
SPOTSYLVANIA, VA., January 14.—A most unique and pretty wedding took place here yesterday afternoon at high noon, when Miss Clara McCarty, nee the wife of Mr. Samuel J. Pates, of the firm of J. Pates & Sons, of Chancellors District, was married to Mr. Thomas Stokely Coleman, of Spotsylvania county. The ceremony was held in a close-fitting tailored suit of brown cloth, with hat, gloves and furs to match, and was attended by her maid of honor, Miss Helen Coleman, and the bride's bridesmaids, Misses Lillian Brockman and Miss Lillian Brockman.

The ceremony was solemnized in fitting words, after which a most elaborate dinner was served, which was served by the bride's bridesmaids, the bride couple left for an extended tour. Mr. and Mrs. Coleman will reside on their return in Spotsylvania county, at a marriage home, which is being built from the clerk's office of this county for the marriage of Thomas McKens and Miss Annie Johnson, both of Spotsylvania county. The ceremony will be celebrated in the near future.

Locker—Sindlinger.
(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
GORDONSVILLE, VA., January 14.—Mr. William Locker and Miss Lillian Sindlinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Sindlinger, of near Gordonsville, were married at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Watkins, Monday evening at 7 o'clock.

Wedding Cards.
(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
LEESBURG, VA., January 14.—Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Fleming, of Leesville, Fauquier county, have issued cards for the marriage of their daughter, Ada Fleming, to J. Shirley Kines, of Leesville, Fauquier county. The ceremony will take place at the Baptist Church, in Upperville, on Wednesday, January 22d, at 12:30 o'clock.

Lump—De Haven.
(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
WINCHESTER, VA., January 14.—Announcement was made this evening of the marriage of Clayton Lump and Miss Laura E. De Haven, members of prominent county families, by Rev. J. H. Beale, in this city. A reception followed at the groom's home.

Weddings in Northumberland.
(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
HEATHSVILLE, VA., January 14.—Mr. Alvin Mitchell, syndor and Miss Julia L. Cookman, were married at the home of Mr. James Hundley, near Coan, on Thursday, January 9th, by Rev. C. H. Williams, who was officiating minister. Captain and Mrs. Crowder, of St. George's Island, were married at the home of Mr. James Hundley, near Coan, on Thursday, January 9th, by Rev. C. H. Williams, who was officiating minister. Captain and Mrs. Crowder will reside at St. George's Island.

Mr. Lloyd Harrison and Miss Edna Josephine Clarke were quietly married at the home of the bride this morning.

Mr. Robt. M. Lackey and Miss Eva Smith had a very pretty wedding at the home of the bride last evening. After a short holiday, the bride will reside at the home of the groom, near Ayaton.

The service was solemnized in the auditorium of the Suffolk Christian Church by Rev. Dr. W. W. Staley, its pastor.

The color scheme was green and white. The church was tastefully and elaborately decorated with palms, ferns and other evergreens, and there were also arches of smilax and carnations. The wedding vows were pledged beneath a marriage bell. Just before the entrance the bride's bridesmaids, the "Rose Maids" were sung by the choir, and as the procession entered there was a rendition of the Lohengrin bridal chorus. During the ceremony Professor A. M. Wilber softly played "The Crown of Love." The music of honor, "The Lohengrin," was played by the choir. The bride, whose beauty is blande and spirituelle, looked lovely in a creation of white duchesse lace built on chiffon and tulle, the veil caught with a diamond brooch, and a necklace of paradox baroque pearls, the bride's bridesmaids, the "Rose Maids" were sung by the choir, and as the procession entered there was a rendition of the Lohengrin bridal chorus. During the ceremony Professor A. M. Wilber softly played "The Crown of Love." The music of honor, "The Lohengrin," was played by the choir. The bride, whose beauty is blande and spirituelle, looked lovely in a creation of white duchesse lace built on chiffon and tulle, the veil caught with a diamond brooch, and a necklace of paradox baroque pearls, the bride's bridesmaids, the "Rose Maids" were sung by the choir, and as the procession entered there was a rendition of the Lohengrin bridal chorus. During the ceremony Professor A. M. Wilber softly played "The Crown of Love." The music of honor, "The Lohengrin," was played by the choir. The bride, whose beauty is blande and spirituelle, looked lovely in a creation of white duchesse lace built on chiffon and tulle, the veil caught with a diamond brooch, and a necklace of paradox baroque pearls, the bride's bridesmaids, the "Rose Maids" were sung by the choir, and as the procession entered there was a rendition of the Lohengrin bridal chorus. During the ceremony Professor A. M. Wilber softly played "The Crown of Love." The music of honor, "The Lohengrin," was played by the choir. The bride, whose beauty is blande and spirituelle, looked lovely in a creation of white duchesse lace built on chiffon and tulle, the veil caught with a diamond brooch, and a necklace of paradox baroque pearls, the bride's bridesmaids, the "Rose Maids" were sung by the choir, and as the procession entered there was a rendition of the Lohengrin bridal chorus. During the ceremony Professor A. M. Wilber softly played "The Crown of Love." The music of honor, "The Lohengrin," was played by the choir. The bride, whose beauty is blande and spirituelle, looked lovely in a creation of white duchesse lace built on chiffon and tulle, the veil caught with a diamond brooch, and a necklace of paradox baroque pearls, the bride's bridesmaids, the "Rose Maids" were sung by the choir, and as the procession entered there was a rendition of the Lohengrin bridal chorus. During the ceremony Professor A. M. Wilber softly played "The Crown of Love." The music of honor, "The Lohengrin," was played by the choir. The bride, whose beauty is blande and spirituelle, looked lovely in a creation of white duchesse lace built on chiffon and tulle, the veil caught with a diamond brooch, and a necklace of paradox baroque pearls, the bride's bridesmaids, the "Rose Maids" were sung by the choir, and as the procession entered there was a rendition of the Lohengrin bridal chorus. During the ceremony Professor A. M. Wilber softly played "The Crown of Love." The music of honor, "The Lohengrin," was played by the choir. The bride, whose beauty is blande and spirituelle, looked lovely in a creation of white duchesse lace built on chiffon and tulle, the veil caught with a diamond brooch, and a necklace of paradox baroque pearls, the bride's bridesmaids, the "Rose Maids" were sung by the choir, and as the procession entered there was a rendition of the Lohengrin bridal chorus. During the ceremony Professor A. M. Wilber softly played "The Crown of Love." The music of honor, "The Lohengrin," was played by the choir. The bride, whose beauty is blande and spirituelle, looked lovely in a creation of white duchesse lace built on chiffon and tulle, the veil caught with a diamond brooch, and a necklace of paradox baroque pearls, the bride's bridesmaids, the "Rose Maids" were sung by the choir, and as the procession entered there was a rendition of the Lohengrin bridal chorus. During the ceremony Professor A. M. Wilber softly played "The Crown of Love." The music of honor, "The Lohengrin," was played by the choir. The bride, whose beauty is blande and spirituelle, looked lovely in a creation of white duchesse lace built on chiffon and tulle, the veil caught with a diamond brooch, and a necklace of paradox baroque pearls, the bride's bridesmaids, the "Rose Maids" were sung by the choir, and as the procession entered there was a rendition of the Lohengrin bridal chorus. During the ceremony Professor A. M. Wilber softly played "The Crown of Love." The music of honor, "The Lohengrin," was played by the choir. The bride, whose beauty is blande and spirituelle, looked lovely in a creation of white duchesse lace built on chiffon and tulle, the veil caught with a diamond brooch, and a necklace of paradox baroque pearls, the bride's bridesmaids, the "Rose Maids" were sung by the choir, and as the procession entered there was a rendition of the Lohengrin bridal chorus. During the ceremony Professor A. M. Wilber softly played "The Crown of Love." The music of honor, "The Lohengrin," was played by the choir. The bride, whose beauty is blande and spirituelle, looked lovely in a creation of white duchesse lace built on chiffon and tulle, the veil caught with a diamond brooch, and a necklace of paradox baroque pearls, the bride's bridesmaids, the "Rose Maids" were sung by the choir, and as the procession entered there was a rendition of the Lohengrin bridal chorus. During the ceremony Professor A. M. Wilber softly played "The Crown of Love." The music of honor, "The Lohengrin," was played by the choir. The bride, whose beauty is blande and spirituelle, looked lovely in a creation of white duchesse lace built on chiffon and tulle, the veil caught with a diamond brooch, and a necklace of paradox baroque pearls, the bride's bridesmaids, the "Rose Maids" were sung by the choir, and as the procession entered there was a rendition of the Lohengrin bridal chorus. During the ceremony Professor A. M. Wilber softly played "The Crown of Love." The music of honor, "The Lohengrin," was played by the choir. The bride, whose beauty is blande and spirituelle, looked lovely in a creation of white duchesse lace built on chiffon and tulle, the veil caught with a diamond brooch, and a necklace of paradox baroque pearls, the bride's bridesmaids, the "Rose Maids" were sung by the choir, and as the procession entered there was a rendition of the Lohengrin bridal chorus. During the ceremony Professor A. M. Wilber softly played "The Crown of Love." The music of honor, "The Lohengrin," was played by the choir. The bride, whose beauty is blande and spirituelle, looked lovely in a creation of white duchesse lace built on chiffon and tulle, the veil caught with a diamond brooch, and a necklace of paradox baroque pearls, the bride's bridesmaids, the "Rose Maids" were sung by the choir, and as the procession entered there was a rendition of the Lohengrin bridal chorus. During the ceremony Professor A. M. Wilber softly played "The Crown of Love." The music of honor, "The Lohengrin," was played by the choir. The bride, whose beauty is blande and spirituelle, looked lovely in a creation of white duchesse lace built on chiffon and tulle, the veil caught with a diamond brooch, and a necklace of paradox baroque pearls, the bride's bridesmaids, the "Rose Maids" were sung by the choir, and as the procession entered there was a rendition of the Lohengrin bridal chorus. During the ceremony Professor A. M. Wilber softly played "The Crown of Love." The music of honor, "The Lohengrin," was played by the choir. The bride, whose beauty is blande and spirituelle, looked lovely in a creation of white duchesse lace built on chiffon and tulle, the veil caught with a diamond brooch, and a necklace of paradox baroque pearls, the bride's bridesmaids, the "Rose Maids" were sung by the choir, and as the procession entered there was a rendition of the Lohengrin bridal chorus. During the ceremony Professor A. M. Wilber softly played "The Crown of Love." The music of honor, "The Lohengrin," was played by the choir. The bride, whose beauty is blande and spirituelle, looked lovely in a creation of white duchesse lace built on chiffon and tulle, the veil caught with a diamond brooch, and a necklace of paradox baroque pearls, the bride's bridesmaids, the "Rose Maids" were sung by the choir, and as the procession entered there was a rendition of the Lohengrin bridal chorus. During the ceremony Professor A. M. Wilber softly played "The Crown of Love." The music of honor, "The Lohengrin," was played by the choir. The bride, whose beauty is blande and spirituelle, looked lovely in a creation of white duchesse lace built on chiffon and tulle, the veil caught with a diamond brooch, and a necklace of paradox baroque pearls, the bride's bridesmaids, the "Rose Maids" were sung by the choir, and as the procession entered there was a rendition of the Lohengrin bridal chorus. During the ceremony Professor A. M. Wilber softly played "The Crown of Love." The music of honor, "The Lohengrin," was played by the choir. The bride, whose beauty is blande and spirituelle, looked lovely in a creation of white duchesse lace built on chiffon and tulle, the veil caught with a diamond brooch, and a necklace of paradox baroque pearls, the bride's bridesmaids, the "Rose Maids" were sung by the choir, and as the procession entered there was a rendition of the Lohengrin bridal chorus. During the ceremony Professor A. M. Wilber softly played "The Crown of Love." The music of honor, "The Lohengrin," was played by the choir. The bride, whose beauty is blande and spirituelle, looked lovely in a creation of white duchesse lace built on chiffon and tulle, the veil caught with a diamond brooch, and a necklace of paradox baroque pearls, the bride's bridesmaids, the "Rose Maids" were sung by the choir, and as the procession entered there was a rendition of the Lohengrin bridal chorus. During the ceremony Professor A. M. Wilber softly played "The Crown of Love." The music of honor, "The Lohengrin," was played by the choir. The bride, whose beauty is blande and spirituelle, looked lovely in a creation of white duchesse lace built on chiffon and tulle, the veil caught with a diamond brooch, and a necklace of paradox baroque pearls, the bride's bridesmaids, the "Rose Maids" were sung by the choir, and as the procession entered there was a rendition of the Lohengrin bridal chorus. During the ceremony Professor A. M. Wilber softly played "The Crown of Love." The music of honor, "The Lohengrin," was played by the choir. The bride, whose beauty is blande and spirituelle, looked lovely in a creation of white duchesse lace built on chiffon and tulle, the veil caught with a diamond brooch, and a necklace of paradox baroque pearls, the bride's bridesmaids, the "Rose Maids" were sung by the choir, and as the procession entered there was a rendition of the Lohengrin bridal chorus. During the ceremony Professor A. M. Wilber softly played "The Crown of Love." The music of honor, "The Lohengrin," was played by the choir. The bride, whose beauty is blande and spirituelle, looked lovely in a creation of white duchesse lace built on chiffon and tulle, the veil caught with a diamond brooch, and a necklace of paradox baroque pearls, the bride's bridesmaids, the "Rose Maids" were sung by the choir, and as the procession entered there was a rendition of the Lohengrin bridal chorus. During the ceremony Professor A. M. Wilber softly played "The Crown of Love." The music of honor, "The Lohengrin," was played by the choir. The bride, whose beauty is blande and spirituelle, looked lovely in a creation of white duchesse lace built on chiffon and tulle, the veil caught with a diamond brooch, and a necklace of paradox baroque pearls, the bride's bridesmaids, the "Rose Maids" were sung by the choir, and as the procession entered there was a rendition of the Lohengrin bridal chorus. During the ceremony Professor A. M. Wilber softly played "The Crown of Love." The music of honor, "The Lohengrin," was played by the choir. The bride, whose beauty is blande and spirituelle, looked lovely in a creation of white duchesse lace built on chiffon and tulle, the veil caught with a diamond brooch, and a necklace of paradox baroque pearls, the bride's bridesmaids, the "Rose Maids" were sung by the choir, and as the procession entered there was a rendition of the Lohengrin bridal chorus. During the ceremony Professor A. M. Wilber softly played "The Crown of Love." The music of honor, "The Lohengrin," was played by the choir. The bride, whose beauty is blande and spirituelle, looked lovely in a creation of white duchesse lace built on chiffon and tulle, the veil caught with a diamond brooch, and a necklace of paradox baroque pearls, the bride's bridesmaids, the "Rose Maids" were sung by the choir, and as the procession entered there was a rendition of the Lohengrin bridal chorus. During the ceremony Professor A. M. Wilber softly played "The Crown of Love." The music of honor, "The Lohengrin," was played by the choir. The bride, whose beauty is blande and spirituelle, looked lovely in a creation of white duchesse lace built on chiffon and tulle, the veil caught with a diamond brooch, and a necklace of paradox baroque pearls, the bride's bridesmaids, the "Rose Maids" were sung by the choir, and as the procession entered there was a rendition of the Lohengrin bridal chorus. During the ceremony Professor A. M. Wilber softly played "The Crown of Love." The music of honor, "The Lohengrin," was played by the choir. The bride, whose beauty is blande and spirituelle, looked lovely in a creation of white duchesse lace built on chiffon and tulle, the veil caught with a diamond brooch, and a necklace of paradox baroque pearls, the bride's bridesmaids, the "Rose Maids" were sung by the choir, and as the procession entered there was a rendition of the Lohengrin bridal chorus. During the ceremony Professor A. M. Wilber softly played "The Crown of Love." The music of honor, "The Lohengrin," was played by the choir. The bride, whose beauty is blande and spirituelle, looked lovely in a creation of white duchesse lace built on chiffon and tulle, the veil caught with a diamond brooch, and a necklace of paradox baroque pearls, the bride's bridesmaids, the "Rose Maids" were sung by the choir, and as the procession entered there was a rendition of the Lohengrin bridal chorus. During the ceremony Professor A. M. Wilber softly played "The Crown of Love." The music of honor, "The Lohengrin," was played by the choir. The bride, whose beauty is blande and spirituelle, looked lovely in a creation of white duchesse lace built on chiffon and tulle, the veil caught with a diamond brooch, and a necklace of paradox baroque pearls, the bride's bridesmaids, the "Rose Maids" were sung by the choir, and as the procession entered there was a rendition of the Lohengrin bridal chorus. During the ceremony Professor A. M. Wilber softly played "The Crown of Love." The music of honor, "The Lohengrin," was played by the choir. The bride, whose beauty is blande and spirituelle, looked lovely in a creation of white duchesse lace built on chiffon and tulle, the veil caught with a diamond brooch, and a necklace of paradox baroque pearls, the bride's bridesmaids, the "Rose Maids" were sung by the choir, and as the procession entered there was a rendition of the Lohengrin bridal chorus. During the ceremony Professor A. M. Wilber softly played "The Crown of Love." The music of honor, "The Lohengrin," was played by the choir. The bride, whose beauty is blande and spirituelle, looked lovely in a creation of white duchesse lace built on chiffon and tulle, the veil caught with a diamond brooch, and a necklace of paradox baroque pearls, the bride's bridesmaids, the "Rose Maids" were sung by the choir, and as the procession entered there was a rendition of the Lohengrin bridal chorus. During the ceremony Professor A. M. Wilber softly played "The Crown of Love." The music of honor, "The Lohengrin," was played by the choir. The bride, whose beauty is blande and spirituelle, looked lovely in a creation of white duchesse lace built on chiffon and tulle, the veil caught with a diamond brooch, and a necklace of paradox baroque pearls, the bride's bridesmaids, the "Rose Maids" were sung by the choir, and as the procession entered there was a rendition of the Lohengrin bridal chorus. During the ceremony Professor A. M. Wilber softly played "The Crown of Love." The music of honor, "The Lohengrin," was played by the choir. The bride, whose beauty is blande and spirituelle, looked lovely in a creation of white duchesse lace built on chiffon and tulle, the veil caught with a diamond brooch, and a necklace of paradox baroque pearls, the bride's bridesmaids, the "Rose Maids" were sung by the choir, and as the procession entered there was a rendition of the Lohengrin bridal chorus. During the ceremony Professor A. M. Wilber softly played "The Crown of Love." The music of honor, "The Lohengrin," was played by the choir. The bride, whose beauty is blande and spirituelle, looked lovely in a creation of white duchesse lace built on chiffon and tulle, the veil caught with a diamond brooch, and a necklace of paradox baroque pearls, the bride's bridesmaids, the "Rose Maids" were sung by the choir, and as the procession entered there was a rendition of the Lohengrin bridal chorus. During the ceremony Professor A. M.